Gospel Reflection

As we go through life we all experience little deaths. We get a foretaste of death when we live in bitterness, loneliness, sadness and despair. In times like these the world closes in on us, and we seem to have one foot in the grave. But we also experience little resurrections. When we know love, acceptance and forgiveness; when we open our hearts to others and to life, the world opens up and we emerge from the tomb. Lord, may the splendour of your resurrection scatter the shadows of death, and enable us to walk in radiant hope towards the kingdom where there are no more shattered hopes or broken dreams.

*To be really alive,
To be holy,
One needs discipline,
Artistry,

SOCIAL JUSTICE FOOD FOR THOUGHT

At this time of year, we are invited to think deeply about the culmination of Christ's life on earth – his final journey to suffering, death and resurrection. The Australian Catholic Social Justice Council has just published an important paper by Peter Arndt who has taken a profound interest in the sufferings of the people of West Papua, and his journey has given him a perhaps unexpected perspective on the mission and suffering of Our Lord.

Go to <http://www.socialjustice.catholic.org.au> for this challenging account about how we should respond as Christians to their pain.

“All will be right with time
and a little patience.”

A non-residential weekend for multiple Illawarra parishes will be run on 5-6 May 2018 in Wollongong. We need 1-2 men from each interested Parish to help get men involved. ## “HE IS RISEN!” By Bishop Brian Mascord

“He is risen!” (Matt 28:6)

Everything that matters in Christianity revolves around this central claim.

Many people attribute great moral teaching to Jesus—his push towards non-violence, turning the other cheek and treating others as we would want ourselves to be treated. Jesus, in many respects, is unrivaled in his attitude towards the outcast, the forgotten and those on the margins of society.

But there is an elephant in the room. He never claimed to be a great moral teacher. What did he claim? He claimed to be the only Son of God and that he would rise from the dead. So, did he?

Well, we know something happened because his cowering followers suddenly found a new bravery. Many went to their death fearlessly and willingly, not to take lives, but offering theirs for the sake of the One who rose from the dead.

For them and for us, Jesus’ resurrection is a moment of redemption. It can redeem our lives from being self-focused, trapped in the day-to-day grind and endlessly searching for meaning in things and people. There is so much more to life than this. We are loved. That is who we are.

Last year I led a pilgrimage to the Holy Land during which I had the opportunity to celebrate in the tomb of Jesus. What struck me most of all was that the tomb was empty. We are people of the empty tomb—for Christ is risen. We are not a people who sit in mourning, but rather, we live life in the light of the Resurrection.

We each bear the Light of Christ. This Easter, igniting the Pascal Candle, we will gather together and become a beacon of hope for all to see. Let us continue to pray, reflect and encounter the passion, death and resurrection of Jesus and allow this mystery to draw us deeper into the great love that God has for us. He is risen, yes, he is risen indeed! Alleluia, Alleluia. I pray the blessings of the risen Christ be upon you.

Grace and peace to you this holy season.

Most Rev Brian G Mascord DD

Bishop of Wollongong
