PENTECOST SUNDAY — YEAR C 9 JUNE 2019

READINGS: Acts 2:1-11; 1 Corinthians 12:3-7,12-13; John 20:19-23

Jewish tradition saw Pentecost as celebrating God's giving of the Law on Mount Sinai. According to legend, a mighty wind turned to fire and a voice proclaimed the Law. The fire then split into seventy tongues corresponding to the seventy then-known nations of the world, to show that the Law was not only for Israel but for all nations.

St Luke uses this tradition in narrating what happened to the apostles, ten days after the Ascension. Now it is not the Law that is being proclaimed but the Gospel. At the voice of Peter, the sentence of Babel is undone and the nations of the world are re-united.

Gospel Reflection

On the day of Pentecost
the apostles spoke a new language.
It was the language of peace
rather than of war;
the language of co-operation
rather than of competition;
the language of forgiveness
rather than the language of vengeance;
the language of hope
rather than the language of despair;
the language of tolerance
rather than of bigotry;
the language of friendship
rather than of hostility;
the language of unity
rather than of division;
the language of love
rather than of hate.

Through the gift of the Spirit, people of different languages
learned to profess one faith to the praise
and glory of God.
That is the real
miracle of Pentecost,
a miracle which,
thankfully, still happens.

BISHOP BRIAN — AD LIMINA VISIT

“When in Rome” — Bishop Brian’s Ad Limina visit.

My Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

This year will mark the first time that I have experienced an Ad Limina visit to Rome with my fellow Australian bishops. The last Ad Limina took place in 2011 and usually happens every five years. So, this visit is very overdue.

In the lead-up to each Ad Limina, every bishop must prepare and submit an extensive report for the Congregation of Bishops. Over the years, I have participated in the preparation of this report when I was Vicar General of my previous diocese, but this will be the first time I have had to give an account of what is happening in the Diocese of Wollongong. This has its own complications as I am still “very green” in the diocese and so much of what has to be reported took place prior to my arrival in the diocese.

Most of the active bishops of Australia will be participating in the visit which takes place from 17-29 June 2019. We will begin with a five-day retreat outside of Rome. On 24 June, the Ad Limina will formally commence with an audience with Pope Francis (I have met the Holy Father once before when I attended the new bishops course last year).

We will then visit the pontifical commissions, congregations and dicasteries that oversee the life of the Church. At the end of the week, Archbishop Peter Comensoli will receive, from the Holy Father, the Pallium which recognises him as the Archbishop of Melbourne and metropolitan of Victoria.

Pleased be assured of my prayers for the diocese as I travel around the different churches in Rome, and I ask that you also pray for all the Australian bishops as we embark on this important journey.

Yours in Christ

Most Rev Brian G Mascord DD
BISHOP OF WOLLONGONG

My Dear People,

Pentecost is a much-loved Feast, but it well and truly precedes the Christian era. It belonged to the Jewish liturgy and even then it was called Pentekostn, which means fifty. For the Jews it was, and still is, the Feast which follows fifty days after the Feast of Unleavened Bread. The Feast of Unleavened Bread, the day following Passover, celebrated the beginning of the barley harvest when there was an offering of the first fruits to God. The harvest lasted seven weeks, then on the fiftieth day the cereal offerings of the entire harvest were solemnly presented to God.

We can easily see a parallel in Christian terms. St Paul speaks of Christ as the “first fruits” of redeemed humanity, “The first fruits of all who have fallen asleep” (1 Cor 15:20). His Resurrection took place when the first sheafs of corn were being offered in the Temple. Fifty days later the Holy Spirit descends like a fire to ripen the remainder of the corn and complete the harvest. He descends on the community of Christ’s followers, producing a harvest of love — as St Paul says, “The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self control” (Gal 5:22-23).

But as well as being a feast of the harvest, Pentecost was also a Jewish feast commemorating the giving of the Law to Moses on Mount Sinai. It was not so much a law as a Covenant — a marriage covenant between God, the divine Husband, and His People, His Bride. St Paul would later take up this theme, seeing the Church as Christ’s Bride, for whom He shed His Blood.

The coming of the Spirit upon the Church put the seal on Christ’s redeeming work. Through His death on the Cross, Christ established a new, and this time unending, Covenant. The famous Vesper hymn of Pentecost calls the Holy Spirit “the finger of God’s right hand”. God is writing now not on tablets of stone, but on human hearts. The new Covenant is not just a matter of keeping external laws. God wants our love, and love goes beyond law.

Sealed with the Spirit, the apostles became the first missionaries. By our Baptism we, too, are called to mission. By the kind of lives we lead, we give witness to the truths and values we profess with our lips. Our Christian lives are a continual ebb and flow between liturgy and life. From the Acts of the Apostles, and the early history of the Church, we see the first Christians gathering together for the Eucharist and for common prayer, and then going from there to take Christ to the world.

Our minds naturally turn today to our children preparing for the Sacrament of Confirmation next Saturday, their personal Pentecost. We pray that the Spirit may touch these candidates and their families so that they may have a real experience of God’s love for them. Then they will be able to take that love to others.

Following Pentecost is a series of Great Feasts, all meant to give us differing perspectives on our Faith; the Most Holy Trinity, the Most Precious Body and Blood of Christ (Corpus Christi), the Sacred Heart of Jesus and, for our Diocese, the Immaculate Heart of Mary to whom we are dedicated, and the Feast of Sts Peter and Paul.
