YEAR A

2nd JULY 2017

READINGS: 2 Kgs 4:8-11; Rom 6:3-4, 8-11; Mt 10:37-42

In today's GOSPEL Jesus instructs His apostles on the sacrifices involved in following Him, and the priorities they must embrace. They must be ready to sacrifice the dearest things in life. In some circumstances they might have to choose between Him and their own relatives.

The GOSPEL also stresses the profound implications of even the smallest act of hospitality—even a cup of cold water. The FIRST READING echoes the Gospel.

GOSPEL REFLECTION

Much of our lives is spent in keeping people out.

We have private houses, private clubs, and so on.

Of course there are times when we need to be alone.

Yet there is a sense in which our size as human beings can be measured by the circles we draw to take other people in: the smaller the circle, the smaller the person.

A strong person isn't afraid of people who are different.

A wise person welcomes them.

By shutting other people out we deny ourselves the riches of other people's experience.

We starve our minds, and harden our hearts.

In the beginning God gave the earth its shape.

He made it round. He included everybody.

So should we.

THIS IS NATIONAL ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER SUNDAY

For thousands of years before the arrival of Western settlers (in Australia), the sole inhabitants of the land were indigenous peoples, the ABORIGINES AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDERS. Their ancient heritage forms an essential part of the cultural landscape of modern Australia. Thanks to the Australian Government's courageous decision to acknowledge the injustices committed against the indigenous peoples in the past, concrete steps are now being taken to achieve reconciliation based on mutual respect. Rightly, you are seeking to close the gap between indigenous and non-indigenous Australians regarding life expectancy, educational achievement and economic opportunity! This example of reconciliation offers hope to peoples all over the world who long to see their rights affirmed and their contribution to society acknowledged and promoted.

TAKE A RISK AND GIVE THE GIFT OF FAITH

In our parish there is a team of volunteers that take a risk and step out in faith. State Government schools do not provide lessons that teach the basic message about Jesus, our faith and the great adventure that life can be with God. We were all given our gift of faith by someone, someone stepped-up for us so that we would know Jesus. Each week of the school year Catechists present 30-minute lessons using a step-by-step lesson plan that helps Catholic children understand their faith, grow in love and maturity and learn what it means to be Catholic. Take a risk and give the gift of faith. Become a Catechist teacher or helper today! For more information, please call 4222 2416 or ask our parish priest for more information.

THE JOURNEY CATHOLIC RADIO PROGRAM – AIRS 2 July 2017

This week on the Journey Nick Weir reads the Gospel of Matthew. Sr Hilda inspires us with her Wisdom from the Abbey about the Energy of Love, and we have a fabulous interview with Philippe Dulawan who works with the Catholic Guy and is promoting the upcoming Impact Leadership Conference. We are so very lucky to have truly amazing Christian music artists sharing their gifts with us to create a show for you that is all about faith, hope, love and life. Go to www.jcr.org.au or www.itunes.jcr.org.au where you can listen anytime and subscribe to weekly shows by email.

FAITH CIRCLES WEEKLY RESOURCE FOR SMALL GROUPS

Small faith-sharing groups are a fun way to build relationships. They provide a place where each person can grow in their faith journey. They focus on the ways in which the Spirit is calling us to live a more active, loving and joyful relationship with God, our Church and our World. Weekly free small group resource called Faith Circles is available based on the Sunday Gospels with two reflections (including one by Pope Francis) as well as accompanying questions and prayer points. It is available to download at www.faithcircles.dow.org.au or have it sent to you each month via email subscription. Click the website link to subscribe to the Faith Circles email list.

My dear people,

Tuesday, July 4, celebrates the entry into heaven of one of our newest and youngest saints—Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati. Pope John Paul II declared him Blessed in 1990, and proclaimed him Patron of World Youth Days. Pier Giorgio was born in Turin in 1901, the eldest of two children. His sister would later write his biography. Their father founded the Italian daily newspaper, La Stampa. He later became Italian Ambassador to Germany. Sadly, he had become agnostic. Their mother was not deeply religious. The marriage was not a happy one, the father eventually wanting a legal separation.

While the family was quite wealthy, Pier Giorgio was rarely given any money. He attended University, and before his death at the age of 24 he had almost completed his engineering degree. At the age of 17 he joined the St Vincent de Paul Society, for he had already developed a great love of the poor and the sick. Any money he was given he spent on alleviating their suffering. He would even take the flowers from their vases in his home to put on the graves of paupers. When asked by one of his friends if he found the smells and filth of the slums nauseating, he replied : “ I see a special light surrounding the poor and unfortunate, a light that we do not have”.

Pier Giorgio went to Mass practically every morning, having been given special permission to receive Holy Communion every day, rare in those times. “Jesus comes to me every morning in Holy Communion, and I repay Him in my very small way by visiting the poor”, he told a friend. And in a speech to the Catholic Youth Group he said, “Feed on this Bread of Angels and from it you will gain the strength to fight your inner battle”. He had a great devotion to Our Lady, and would often visit a shrine of hers in the mountains. Wrote a friend, “I would not hesitate to say that the secret of Pier Giorgio’s spiritual perfection is to be found in his devotion to Mary. A day never passed that did not find him at the feet of his heavenly Mother with his rosary, his favourite prayer, entwined in his fingers”.

Pier Giorgio’s deeply spiritual life gave him an extraordinary serenity and composure which influenced all around him. He had many friends, and loved mountain –climbing and skiing (this made him a favourite of Pope John Paul). He was always playing practical jokes on his friends, and he had an infectious laugh. He was deeply concerned about Italy’s political situation and publicly protested about the rise of Fascism. He was once arrested at a Catholic Action rally. His devotion to the poor and the sick brought about his early death on 4 July, 1925 at the age of 24. From the slums he caught polio—it took his young life quickly in only about six days. He died with his eyes fixed on an image of Our Lady, attested his sister, Luciana. As soon as the city of Turin heard of the death, the poor and the needy headed for his house. His parents could not believe the crowds that lined the streets for his funeral, for his charitable works had gone largely unnoticed. His father had considered him a complete failure, for his son had no ambition to take over the family business. Pier Giorgio’s life was fixed on heaven. He had once said to his friend, “The day of my death will be the most beautiful day of my life”.

When Pier Giorgio’s coffin was opened in 1981, fifty-six years after his death, on the occasion of the beginning of the process of his beatification, corruption had not touched his remains which were then taken to the Cathedral of Turin (where the Shroud is kept). At the request of Cardinal Pell, his body was brought to Sydney for World Youth Day in 2008. The Australian Government had to pass a law to allow an unembalmed body to enter the country. The famous Jesuit, Fr Karl Rahner, and expert at the Second Vatican Council, wrote that Pier Giorgio’s greatness lay in his belief “that God is, that what sustains us is prayer, that the Eucharist nourishes what is eternal in us, that all people are brothers and sisters”. To his sister, some months before his death, Pier Giorgio wrote, “You ask me whether I am cheerful. How could I not be, so long as my faith gives me strength. For suffering is a far different thing than sadness, which is the worst disease of all. It is almost always caused by lack of faith”.
